15:30 Evaluation and closure of the program

Location: Fish restaurant „Riblja csarda“ on the shore of Lake Palić (24413 Palić, Obala Lajoša Vermeša BB)

First we visited Rokin salaš (Róka tanya). It has a century and a half of history that has retained its original form to this day.

The farm has been recently renovated/expanded, but its building retains the architectural features of the three-parted Pannonian house typical of the Northern Bačka region.

Rokin salaš is intended to preserve the traditions, archaeological treasures, customs, food, and drink specialties of the region. The exhibition, which can be seen regularly in the building, tells the history of the village, the old customs, and the lives of the people.

There is a strong emphasis on nurturing and protecting the environment. Electricity is produced using solar panels, which we know is a renewable energy source. It does not produce too much electricity for the farm, but it is just right for the most necessary things (water heating, smaller technical equipment).

After lunch, we traveled to the location of the next professional program, which is in Donji Tavankut.

There we visited the HKPD MATIJA GUBEC association (Hrvatskog kulturno-prosvjetnog društva "Matija Gubec"). This association was founded in 1946 and is actively functioning to this day. It has about 300 active members, in numerous sections (departments). It bases its functioning on volunteers, working on projects (local, regional, and EU).

First, we viewed the "Gallery of the first naive in the straw technique", which implements a project called the 52. Week of Traditional Culture. The exhibition presents the works of numerous Slamar (the person who creates art with the straw technique), traditional techniques of straw knitting in Vojvodina, and new techniques that were adopted during the World Straw Congress.

At the location of the Gallery, there is a multifunctional space that is used for meetings, workshops, and lectures, and if necessary, it is transformed into a restaurant, which is a significant source of income for the association. The restaurant is closed and works only on prior reservations.

Next, we visited the Roman Catholic Church of the Sacred Heart of Jesus and a display of a beautifully outlined vault and decorated altar.

The association also functions at the location of the Balažević Ethno Farm. The farm has 12 accommodation units, a closed large terrace - with a capacity of 100 people (which is used for meetings, conferences, and workshops and sometimes has the function of a cinema).

On the second day, we met in Palić.

Architectural art nouveau objects like the Large Terrace, Water Tower, Park and Lake Hotels, Women's Beach, Villa Lujza, Small Inn, Owl castle, Abazija, TIC (Tranvajska Station) and Palić Villas as well as the 170-year-old English park and a baroque park on the promenade, a tennis court built in 1878 and a summer terrace were visited during the walk.

Palić was a spa that was known in the middle of the 19th century as a healing one with a mud bath, a developed tourist offer of gastronomy, sports / Palić Olympics was founded 4 years before the modern Olympic Games /, vacations, entertainment and walks.

The final professional program of the meeting was the visit to the Furioso Adventure Park. The adventure park is located in the immediate vicinity of Lake Ludaš, on an area of about 2 hectares, and combines catering and experience functions. The park has a closed reception area for 50 people and an open reception area for 80 people, as well as a playground and an adventure park for people of all ages.

There are three main directions in the range of services: event organization, which includes children's birthdays, other family events, and corporate gatherings. The second group of services are trips, and the third is the reception of individual visitors.

Part of the visit was to introduce Lake Ludaš which is under the protection of Ramsar and its fauna and flora with the horse-drawn carriage of the adventure park.

During the carriage trip, we visited the bicycle rest area with a bird observatory, made of natural materials, on Lake Ludaš, which is located right next to the green belt of the lake.

The rest area is part of the eco-tourism infrastructure, as a type of tourism directly related to nature and has the potential to employ labor on maintenance, control, and nature protection, as a ranger service, reviving old crafts, guides in nature-greeter. In addition, gastronomy and accommodation services require the employment of labor permanently, due to their high turnover.

The project meeting ended with a lunch at Fish restaurant „Riblja csarda“ on the shore of Lake Palić.
